At Arcadia College, we can work together to keep knives out of college:

- Every student has the right to feel safe and be safe at college.
- No knives are allowed to be taken to college by students.
- There is no reason for a student to have a knife at college, and it is against the law for a student to have a knife at college.

If a student has a knife a college, they can expect serious consequences, such as fines and possibly jail. Longer jail sentences can be given to young people if someone is injured with a knife during an assault.

What kinds of knife are banned?

- No knives of any type are allowed at college, including flick knives, ballistic knives, sheath knives, push daggers, trench knives, butterfly knives, star knives, butter knives, fruit knives or craft knives, or any item that can be used as a weapon, for example a chisel.
- Knives needed for college activities will be provided by the college, and the use of them will be supervised by college staff.
- In circumstances where students are required to have their own knives or sharp tools for particular subjects or vocational courses, the college will provide information about the procedures for carrying and storing these items at college.

The College will take tough action against a student who brings a knife on site.

- If a student has a knife at college, senior management can inform the police.
- Possessing a knife at college may result in serious disciplinary consequences
- Police can search a student and their property at school if they suspect a student has a knife.
- A student may be charged with a criminal offence and may face serious consequences if convicted, including a fine or jail.
- College property such as desks or lockers may be searched if the senior management suspects that a student has a knife on or in college property.
